76 Progressives visit Maplewood

By Desi Hesseltine
On April 13, 2014, the 76 Progressives 4-H Club took a trip to Maplewood Manor in Keota to celebrate Easter. While there, the residents had many opportunities to interact with the members. Ring toss, Bingo, and picture drawing were all part of the festivities that took place. Overall, it was a good opportunity for the residents to interact with the 4-H members.

Residents of Maplewood Manor had the opportunity to play ring toss and win prizes with members.

Members draw pictures of Easter eggs with the residents.

SAM HOPES TO SETTLE DOWN WHERE HE BEGAN

By: Desi Hesseltine
On November 16, 1995, Samuel Albert Ollinger, otherwise known as "Peabody," was born to proud parents John and Mary Ollinger. He has one sister, Olivia. Sam said his favorite family activity is camping at the Iowa State Fair, which they do every year. Overall, Sam admires the "funniness" of his family. Also, he likes how they are always up for a good time.
Sam has been involved in many different things during his stay at Keota High School. Those include golf, baseball, track, football, FFA, and basketball manager. Overall, Sam's favorites are basketball manager and golf.
The classes Sam has enjoyed most at KHS are Speech and Public Communications with Bill Hultman because, "he taught me a lot about life."

Samuel said the most memorable moment of his childhood was getting his first dirt bike and going riding on it. In Jr. High, Sam still remembers when he went undefeated in 8th grade football under Coach Bundy's guide.
Moving up on the ladder, Sam's favorite high school memory was managing the boy's basketball team and going all the way to Wells Fargo for the State Basketball Tournament. In his spare time, Peabody enjoys "hanging with friends and stirrin' up some trouble having a good time."
After high school, Sam plans to attend Kirkwood Community College to be a CNC Technician. In ten years, he hopes to be back in Keota and starting a family. The most important qualities he possesses to get him there are that he has a ton of hard work and determination in him.
Three things Sam wants to accomplish in his lifetime are to get through college, get a salary paid job, and have fun while doing it.
After he leaves KHS, he will certainly miss "always being with his buds." Sam's advice to future KHS seniors is, "Senior year flies by, so drive fast, take chances, and have fun."

ADVANCED COMP TAKES A TRIP

World Food Prize at ISU

By Maggie Baker
On April 14, Ms. Lenius' Advanced Comp students, Brittany Baumert, Katrina Weber, and Maggie Baker, attended the World Food Prize Iowa Youth Institute. This took place in Ames at the Iowa State University campus.

This year's conference honored the 100th Year Anniversary of Norman Borlaug's birth. The conference required a paper describing and solving a major problem in a Third World country, which the students spent time working on in class.
The day was spent discussing these problems and solutions with many students from around the state. In all, it was a great day.

BLAST FROM THE PAST

How will Seniors respond the second time around?

By Emily Baetsle
This week, we asked a Senior the same question they were asked in The Eagle's Wing when they were in 7th grade. Let's see how their responses have changed over the years...

Q: What is the most expensive thing you've bought and what was it worth?

Kayla Baker

7th:
I once spent $300 on clothes, and it was worth it because I love shopping.

12th: A $400 laptop, and it was worth it because I use it a lot.

FARM SAFETY DAY AT KHS

Senior boys Justin Hultman, Sam Ollinger, Derek Berg, Kolton Greiner, and Luke Lyle discuss the hazards involved in lawn mowing equipment during Keota Elementary's Farm Safety Day on Thurs., Apr., 17, 2014.

Pictured to the left are Cole Brenneman and Luke Greiner teaching about grain bin safety during the FFA Farm Safety Day on Thursday.

Pictured to the right are Brooke Sieren, Erin Chalupa, Marty Baker, and Mr. Ortiz teaching the first graders how to pick out the safety hazards on a model farm.

Third graders ask questions about ATV and other farm vehicles with FFA members Maitland Sieren, Kelsi Sieren, Jack Eakins, and Logan Sieren on Farm Safety Day.

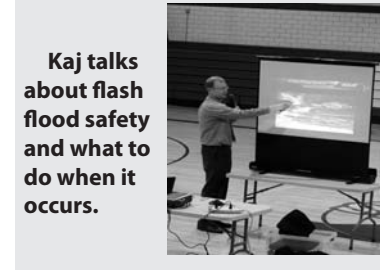

KCRG MAKES A VISIT

By Emily Baetsle
On Tues., April 15, 2014 KCRG's Kaj O'Mara came to Keota and talked to the elementary kids about weather and safety tips. He showed them different weather clips and told them how to stay safe in severe weather. At the end, he asked the kids if any of them had questions and many raised their hands to ask really good questions. After the assembly, the elementary Student Council took him on a tour and he was really impressed with the school's tunnel. The event was also featured on the 6:00 p.m. news that evening.

Kaj talks about flash flood safety and what to do when it occurs.

At the end of the assembly, Kaj had the kids ask him questions.

Question of the Week: Which is the best, Korner Kremery or Walkers? By Erin Chalupa

 Mrs. Conrad, Staff Korner Kremery, because I love their waffle cones.	 Emily Baetsle, 12th Walkers, because they have the best ice cream.	 Brittney Weber, 11th Walkers.	 Abby Schulte, 10th Korner Kremery, because they have a better selection.	 Bianca Cardona, 9th Walkers, because they have the best ice cream and food.	 Jack Eakins, 8th Walkers, because they have french fries.	 Brianna Duwa, 7th Korner Kremery, because they have my favorite ice cream.
