CALLIE IS MAKIN' MEMORIES

BY SIERRA LYLE

On September 25, 1996, Eric and Paula Greiner welcomed their new baby girl, Callie Marie, with open arms. A couple of years down the road they gave Callie a younger brother, Luke, who is now a freshman in high school.

Nicknamed "Precious" by her father, Callie remembers many different memories with her family, and she can happily say that most of them were good. Her third birthday party is the memory that sticks out most in her mind, because she yelled at everyone to sing "Happy Birthday" to her, with the usual sass of a 3 year-old.

Family has always been very important to Callie. Her parents have always made her smile, and she knows her brother has her back. She also admires the relationship her parents have. "They are husband and wife, and they are best friends," she says. As a family, they have had many good times together. Whether it was showing livestock or heading to the great Iowa State Fair, fun was always easy to find while Callie was growing up.

Callie finds fun in other ways as well. Her extensive involvement in extracurricular activities has helped her create lots of fun memories. Her long list of activities include: 4-H, FFA, speech, drama, dance team, football cheerleading, volleyball, basketball, track, golf, EagleRock!, National Honor Society, and Student Council. She says she enjoyed volleyball and cheerleading the most, because they were fun sports to be involved in and she always got to wear bows. Her proudest accomplishment was being selected for the National Honor Society as a sophomore.

While in high school, Callie's favorite memory was cheering on the basketball boys while they played at the State Tournament in Des Moines. She loved taking Mr. Snakenberg's classes, because "he made it fun to learn and always tried to make things relatable." The classes she feels she got the most out of were her business classes with Mrs. Snakenberg, because she learned a lot about finances and how the world works.

Hard work has been a huge part of Callie's day-to-day life. Her parents have taught her many skills to continue on the path she has started. Callie's ultimate dream is to become an actress, which is a direct result of the positive influence Keota's Speech and Drama programs have had on her. Callie says participating in these programs really helped her "come into her own," but she knows dreams don't always come true. This is why she has a solid back-up plan in place.

After high school ends, Callie plans to attend Iowa State University to major in Public Service and Communication (Ag in Society). She has always loved being involved with agriculture and has a knack for talking to people. Her goal is to educate as many people about agriculture as possible. In ten years, she hopes to be employed in this dream job, married with kids, living on a farm, and wrinkle-free. She says her hard work, support from her family, and her drive will help her achieve these goals.

When Callie graduates, she will miss the ease of high school and Friday Night Lights. She hopes people remember her as a happy, bubbly, sassy girl with a constant smile on her face, and someone that younger kids can look up to. Callie's advice to future seniors reflects her positive outlook: "Be involved as much as you can. You only have four years to do everything, so make memories."

RIDE OF THE WEEK

BY MIRANDA ROMOSER

This week's Ride of the Week features Jack Eakins. His parents recently bought him a shiny silver 2013 Chevy Impala LT. He got this car five months ago from Gretter's, because he was kind enough to give his other car to his sister. This gem has a V6 engine, along with a few others specialties like a sunroof, secret storage, and some bumping speakers. Jack said that the top speed doesn't matter, because of course, he would never go that fast. His favorite thing about this car is that it is silver; however, he wishes that it had heated seats, because that would come in handy in the winter. Jack's dream car is a 2015 GMC Sierra 2500. For now, you'll only see Jack driving back and forth from school, since he only has his permit. But once he turns 16 this summer, you're sure to see more of this car cruising around town.

So what do you think: is this car worthy of being Keota High School's Ride of the Week?
