The First Week of School...

What a great start to a school year that students, staff, and parents could hardly wait to start.

The first day was a bag of mixed emotions for many, as some were ready to get back to some form of normalcy, while others were nervous about what the first days back to school would look and feel like.

Teachers worked tirelessly to review new procedures for students to follow including new entries into the school building, new seating arrangements during lunch and in classrooms, promoting social distancing and frequent handwashing.

All in all, the first week of school went very well. Thank you to parents for supporting our efforts to keep students safe while providing a top notch education for our students.
