PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE RICK SANTORUM VISITS KHS

Senior Megan Adam and her mom, Mary Beth Adam, pose with Rick Santorum on Wed., Oct. 14. Megan's letter to the Senator is what prompted him to visit Keota.

A large crowd of community members and students gathered to hear Rick Santorum speak at the KHS gymnasium.

Santorum welcomed the opportunity to meet with students and pose for photos during his visit. He is pictured above with 8th grade students Lauren Sieren and Aaliyah Heldman.

On Wed., Oct. 14, Keota High School had the pleasure of welcoming Senator Rick Santorum, who is running for the Republican nomination for president in 2016. Senator

Santorum shared his political views with the students and community members who gathered at the Keota High School Gymnasium. He also answered questions from the Keota student body, the Mid-

Prairie Government class, and community members.

He even stayed for awhile afterwards to take a few photos with students and community members.

The visit was a direct result of the effort made by one KHS senior, Megan Adam, who wrote a letter to Santorum asking him to come visit Keota High School. This goes to show how one student can really make a difference!

The 2015 Keota Fall Play is presenting three One Acts: Being Bianca, Can't You See We're Acting?, and Must the Show Go On. Students of Keota High School have been working hard on perfecting these acts every Tuesday and Wednesday night since the beginning of the school year.

Being Bianca stars a high school girl named Bianca, who is teaching everyone how to be just like her as a community service project to help her get into college so she can "wear those nice, college sweaters."

Keota High School's Fall Play will be presented on November 5th and 6th at 7:30 p.m. at the KHS Auditorium.

Tickets are available by calling the High School office at 641-636-3491.

KHS ATHLETE OF THE WEEK

BY JACE UPHOLD

This week's Athlete of the Week is Cole Brenneman. Cole is the starting center for the Sigourney-Keota Cobras. Cole, otherwise known as "Brenny" by his friends, is a sophomore in high school. Cole said at the beginning of the season that he was looking forward to going to the playoffs. This season Cole is trying to improve on his snapping, because this is his first year as a center. Cole says his ultimate goal would be to go an entire game without having a bad snap. Cole's favorite saying for the year is, "I don't get tired." Cole's favorite thing about football is that he can hit people and be aggressive on every play. The funniest moment that Cole can remember is when Coach Jensen got new Jordan shoes, and at the end of practice Cole asked, "WHAT ARE THOSE?"
