JUNK OR JEWEL

BY JACE UPHOLD

This week's Junk or Jewel features Jack Eakins. Jack owns a 2012 Chevy Silverado 1500. His truck has 44,000 miles on it and has a 4.3L V6 engine. Jack's hot rod is black and gets 13.5 MPG. He listens to XM57, XM45, and 98.1. Jack got this truck during football season last year. The only specialties he has on his truck are the new rims. Jack likes that his car gets dirty easy when doing "hood rat stuff". He can fit six people in his car to take people to "the fort". The top speed of Jack's car is "too fast." He says that if he could name his car anything, it would be "Black Magic" because it's black. Jack has owned two cars before this one.

Now it's time for you to decide, is this car junk or a jewel?

MYSTERY STUDENT OF THE WEEK

BY AVERY CONRAD

This week's Mystery Student has short brown hair and hazel eyes. He/she has an extreme love for basketball and enjoys a round of golf or two. He/she can be found acting it out in Large Group Speech or a school play occasionally. He/she has three siblings and their worst habit is that they eat too much breakfast pizza. Their pet peeve is when somebody cuts them off while they are driving, especially in the school parking lot. Their best feature is their eyebrows. They will be remembered for being a great basketball player and for all the cheesy jokes they say.

Can you guess this Mystery Student of the Week? Submit your guess to Mrs. Conrad and win a candy bar!

HAHN HAS IT HAPPENIN'

BY KYLEA TINNES

Isaiah Matthew Hahn was born December 26, 1997. His parents are Janie and Matthew Hahn. Isaiah admires his parents for how close and hard working they are. He has four siblings: Noah, Gabe, Callie, and Cara. Isaiah's favorite childhood memory is hanging out with Luke, Kolton, Callie, and Cara on the weekends. Isaiah also fondly looks back at the trip his family took to Jamaica for his aunt's wedding.

Growing up Isaiah dreamed of becoming a house hauler, because he loved tractors and big farm equipment. Now as his senior year is coming to an end, Isaiah plans on going to Kirkwood for Turf Management, because he enjoys sports and being outside. When asked where he sees himself in ten years, Isaiah responded, "Living in Chicago working for the Cubs." The qualities that are going to make Isaiah successful are how hardworking he is and his ability to meet new people. Three things Isaiah wants to accomplish is his lifetime are to go to a college football National Championship game, travel to LA, and see New York.

Isaiah is involved in many extracurricular activities at Keota High School, such as football, basketball, track, baseball, FFA, 4-H, and speech. When asked which ones were his favorite, he said, "Football and basketball, because I was good at them and they were fun."

An accomplishment Isaiah is proud of is making it to All-State Speech three years in a row with Tyler Verstraete, Zach Mousel, Nate Sieren, and Paden Uphold. Isaiah's favorite high school memory is making it to State basketball his Sophomore year. The classes he has enjoyed the most are his history classes, because they always have great discussions.

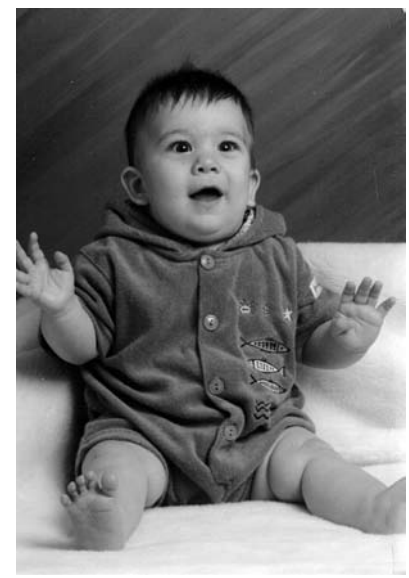

"Government has prepared me the most for life, because I learned a lot about our country," he said.

Isaiah describes himself as independent, athletic, a jokester, and hardworking.

He wants to be remembered as a fun, athletic and hard-working kid. Isaiah works on his family's farm doing odd jobs. This job has taught him that hard work pays off. After he graduates, Isaiah is going to miss the sports and his classmates the most.

Avery Conrad, a fellow basketball teammate, was asked what he will miss the most about Isaiah. Avery said, "his jokes, because he says stupid stuff and it's hilarious."

Isaiah's advice to future KHS seniors is this: "Enjoy it while you can." Best of luck to Isaiah in his future.
