FOOD CLASS MAKES COOKIES FOR VALENTINE'S DAY

BY RAIGAN SPROUSE

Last week the Foods class helped Keota High School get into the spirit of Valentine's Day. They had been working hard to make cookies for every student in grades 7th-12th, as well as faculty members. The class consists of four seniors, one junior, and three freshmen. They have been making a variety of cookies, such as chocolate chip, peanut butter, and oatmeal. Throughout the class they have learned about many cooking and baking techniques that make the best cookies. The cookies were handed out to everyone on Tuesday, Feb. 14 for Valentine's Day.

SENIOR SPOTLIGHT: ANTHONY CAMPBELL

BY BAYLEI MCCLELLAND

Anthony Dean Campbell was born on April 19, 1999, to Yolanda and Jeremy Campbell. Anthony, also known as Tony, has two sisters: Aubrey and Adrianna. His favorite childhood memory is winning his first go-cart race, and his favorite family memory is going to the dirt track races. When asked what he admires most about his family, he said, "No matter how bad I screw up, they still love me."

In high school, Anthony was involved in baseball, basketball, golf, and 4-H. He says that his favorite is baseball, because he's "not terrible at it." Anthony says an accomplishment he is proud of is starting in baseball since he was a freshman. He even wanted to become a Major League baseball player when he was younger. His favorite high school memory is hitting a homerun in a play-off game against English-Valley. Other than his obvious love for baseball, Anthony babysits at home and likes to hang out with friends. Tony says that his favorite class at KHS was study hall because he doesn't have to do much, but Foods class has prepared him most for life because he was taught how to cook.

In ten years, Anthony hopes to find someone compatible for him and maybe start a family. Over the course of his life he would like to be married, have kids, and have a good life. He says that he believes he can reach these goals because of his determination. After he graduates, he hopes that people will remember him for being fun, but fellow senior and teammate, Jacob Wickenkamp says, "I'll miss his good looks." Tony plans on going to college after high school, but is still undecided what to major in.

The advice he leaves for future KHS seniors is: "Time flies, and whether you like high school or not, you're going to miss it." We wish Anthony the best as he continues on after high school.

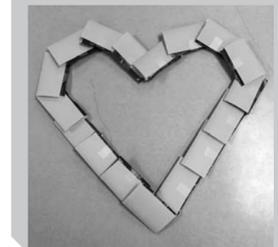

PEER HELPERS HELP SPREAD CHEER ON VALENTINE'S DAY

BY MALLORY WOLTERING

The Peer Helpers have been very busy over the past couple of weeks. As a class, they brainstormed ideas for how to spread some cheer throughout the school. As a class they came up with the idea of making Valentines for everyone in the high school and junior high. They made 124 valentines for students and 22 for the teachers. Each valentine had a piece of candy and a nice little note attached.

The Peer Helpers class is a new class to KHS this year. They meet every other day and the goal of the class is to come up with ways to help make the school a positive and fun place to come to every day. This semester, there are five students in the class: Riley Conrad, Cullen Kelly, Kylea Tinnes, Jacob Wickenkamp, and Mallory Woltering. Students can also participate in Peer Helpers as an extra-curricular activity. Those participants include Baylei McClelland, Bianca Cardona, Erin Chalupa, and Anna Ackerman.

So far this year, the group has organized holiday door decorating contests, organized Red Ribbon Week activities, made signs for student's lockers, ran the homecoming concession stand, and created Valentines for all the students. They look forward to continuing their good work in the future.

VALENTINE'S DAY DOOR DECORATING CONTEST

BY CULLEN KELLEY

Ms. Kaplan's class was the winner of the Peer Helpers Door Decorating Contest for Valentine's Day. They made a door of sweethearts, designed by her seniors.

Mrs. Amelon's doors were decorated with a variety of hearts and sweethearts by her eleventh graders.

Ms. Hobbs' door was decorated in a chemistry fashion and was designed by her eighth graders.

The Keota High School's annual parenting class is in full swing. Every year, Keota offers a parenting class to high school students. This year, the parenting teacher is Mrs. Lori Wolf and the students are: Bianca Cardona, Elise Swanstrom, Kylea Tinnes, Maleah

Miller, and Maddy Johnson. They have already started some interactive class projects. During the week, each student had to wear a mock pregnant belly around school for the whole day. They also made salt babies that they have been carrying around the school and community. When asked about the project, Kylea Tinnes responded with, "It has definitely shown me that I would not be ready to have a child at this time in my life," and Elise and Bianca said that they found that they still have a lot to learn about being a parent before they actually become one. Later in the year, the students will be completing many other projects and hopefully learning a lot about how to be a parent in the future. We wish good luck to Bianca, Elise, Kylea, Maleah, and Maddy with their salt babies and the rest of the year in parenting class.

JUNK OR JEWEL

BY CULLEN KELLEY

This week's Junk or Jewel is Erik Smith's 2003 Ford Explorer. Its color is silver and it gets 18.3 miles per gallon. It was a used car and has only had one previous owner. He paid $1,000 for it. He got the car on Friday, Sept. 3. His favorite radio station to listen to is 99.7. His favorite memory of the car is getting it and his worst memory is having to pay for it.

The name of his car is "Old Betsy." He drives it to school and home the most and he doesn't usually drive anyone else around. It can fit five people comfortably. He also loves the 4-wheel drive in his truck. It also has a top speed of 120 miles per hour.

Now it's your time to decide if this week's car is a Junk or Jewel.
