ATHLETE OF THE WEEK

BY TURNER KLEIN

This week's Athlete of the Week is Lauren Imhoff. Lauren is an avid golfer, and is likely going to the Masters some day. She is looking forward to having a complete girls golf team this year. When asked what she needs to improve on, Lauren said "Putting." This golf wizard's ultimate achievement would be placing in a meet. Her motto is "Let 'er eat." She says her favorite thing about this sport is "Letting my inner rage out on the golf ball." In all seriousness, Lauren likes that she can play golf in all weather. She says the funniest moments this season were when she had to hold Brianna Duwa's feet down so she could hit the ball.

We all wish Lauren the best of luck this season.

JUNK OR JEWEL

BY JONNY FLANEGAN

Hunter Wilson has a 2002 Chevy Impala with 156,000 miles on it. His engine is "A big one." The color is tan. He says his miles per gallon go down every time he gets in it. Hunter's current radio presets are 102.9, 99.7, 97.7, 98.1, and 107.9. The previous owner of Hunter's car was his grandma, and he got the car for free. Hunter acquired the vehicle in 2014. When Hunter was asked about his car's specialties, he replied, "It likes to go fast." Hunter says he likes the dent on the front end of his car the best. Hunter can fit six people in his car on a good day. When asked if Hunter has had any good memories in the vehicle, he replied "Racing Knobs in the Regal." Bad memories include "going into the ditch with Luke and Olivia." If he had a name for his car it would be "The Bronze Beast" because his car is a beast. This is Hunter's first car. He spends most of his time in it driving on the back roads. Apparently "P Funk" travels with Hunter the most. Hunter goes on road trips every weekend because he makes a lot of McDonald's runs. Now it's your turn to decide if Hunter's car is junk or jewel.

KHS MATH CLASSES CELEBRATE NATIONAL PI DAY

BY LOGAN SIEREN

On Wednesday, March 14, math classes around the nation celebrated National Pi day. Ms. Kaplan's math classes took part in celebrating Pi Day by participating in interactive activities. One activity consisted of drawing Pi-Scrapers, which are skyscrapers whose height is determined by the values of Pi. Students were allowed to color and design the buildings as they desired. Students could also partake in another activity, called a Pi chain. In this activity, students created a paper chain using different colors, with each color representing a different numerical value to create Pi. Ms. Kaplan took the artwork and hung it on a wall of her room to demonstrate values of Pi with the Pi-Scrapers and the paper chain. Luke Greiner, a student in Ms. Kaplan's class, said, "The activities were very interactive and allowed me to understand Pi better." Pi day activities are a very fun and interactive way for students to get involved in math.
