HIGH SCHOOL ATHLETE OF THE WEEK

BY JILLIAN SCHULTE

Jaime Schulte is this week's Athlete of the Week. Jaime is a junior this year and is coming back to track after taking last year off. Jaime is currently running short distance events and is training as a sprinter for the team. Jaime's motto this year is "Success is not for the lazy."

This year Jaime is looking forward to getting to run with her sister, Jill Schulte, one last time. She also says that her ultimate achievement would be to beat her sister in a race. Jaime would like to improve her speed and agility this season. She also hopes that these skills will help her in other sports as well and make her an overall better athlete.

Jaime's favorite part about track is all of the memories she makes with her friends. One of her favorite memories was freshman year when she was about to race against her sister and then false started. She said at the time she was really mad, but looking back now she thinks it is funny.

We wish Jaime the best of luck this season!

JUNK OR JEWEL

BY BERGEN DALTON

This week's Junk or Jewel is Lindsey Imhoff's 2010 Chevy Malibu. Her vehicle is brown with a black interior. This car has a 2.4 liter 4 cylinder engine. Lindsey's car has 170,000 miles on it and gets 26 miles to the gallon. In July, Lindsey traded her first vehicle in for this Malibu and paid an additional $2,500 for it. Lindsey really likes Malibus, so she is very happy with her car. This vehicle holds five passengers legally, and Lindsey's most common passenger is her mom. Lindsey mostly drives her car to school, since she is still 15-years-old. Some memories that she is fond of are listening to good tunes in the car, but the worst memory she has is when one of the headlights went out. Lindsey named her car "Brown Betty" because her sister's car's name is "Black Betty". Now it's your turn to decide. Is Lindsey's car junk or a jewel?

BERGEN IS ON THE ROAD TO RESCUE

BY TRISTAN SYPHERD

Bergen Christine Dalton is in the graduating class of 2019 at Keota High School. She was born on September 18, 2000, and she is the daughter of Amy and Jen Dalton. Her favorite childhood memory was getting her dog, Lucky, when she was little. "She has been my best friend growing up," Bergen said. Bergen admires her family for how understanding they are during difficult times. "Nearly all of my family members have had to overcome a hardship, so they understand how life can be difficult," she said.

Bergen has had many favorite memories over the years. Her favorite elementary teacher was Mrs. Hart, because "she was goofy and fun," she said. Her favorite elementary school memory was the time she and Addison Sprouse had to write an apology letter to a substitute teacher because they talked too much. Her favorite memory from high school was going on the Eaglerock trip to Omaha. Her favorite birthday party growing up was her tenth birthday, when she had friends over to stay at a cabin at Lake Belva Deer. One of her favorite family traditions is eating lots of food and playing games on the holidays.

While in high school, Bergen was involved in many different extracurricular activities, such as volleyball, speech, Eaglerock, plays, and musicals. Her favorite extracurricular activity was speech, because Gina and Mike are great coaches and are very fun. "They are also very understanding that students can't dedicate all their time to speech," Bergen said. Outside of school, Bergen's hobbies consist of volunteering at the animal shelter when she isn't working, and doing other animal related things. The accomplishment Bergen is most proud of is getting a job at Paws & More, because she loves being able to help animals.

When Bergen was little, it was her dream to be a veterinarian when she grew up. Over the years, her plans have changed a little, but her focus will still be on animals. After high school, Bergen now plans to attend Kirkwood Community College to become a Humane Officer. She chose this career because of her passion for working with animals. The three things Bergen hopes to accomplish in her lifetime are to start a family, have a stable job, and continue helping animals in need.

The classes that have helped Bergen the most to prepare for college are Personal Finance and College Prep. Bergen says she will miss Ms. Bries and her friends the most when she leaves for college. She wants people to remember her as someone who was kind and always smiling. Bergen's friend, Callie McNurlen, said, "The thing I will miss most is hearing Bergen's laugh from literally anywhere."

If Bergen could go back and start high school over, she says she would procrastinate less and get things done on time. Bergen's advice to future KHS seniors is: "Stay focused and do your homework, but make your last year fun." We wish Bergen the best of luck in her future.

COACH OF THE WEEK

BY BRANDEN HYMAN

This week's Coach of the Week is the new Keota boys and girls golf coach Mike Jacobsen. Mr. Jacobsen looks forward to seeing individual and team improvement, meeting goals, and some warm weather this season. He wants to improve on individual low scores, conference team standing, and fundamentals to get better. His ultimate achievement would be to win the conference or advance to Districts or State. His motto is "Get better, every day".

This is Mr. Jacobsen's first year coaching this sport. His favorite part about the sport is the individual nature of it. He likes that it's a mental game, but also that it's a sport that takes physical skill. He is coaching the sport because he enjoys the game and enjoys seeing student athletes improve.

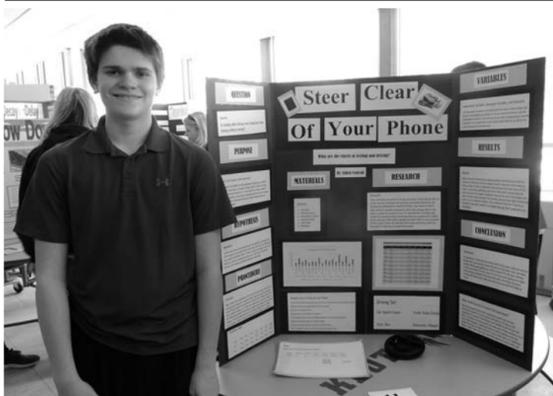

We wish Mr. Jacobsen good luck for the season and GO EAGLES!

SUCCESSFUL YEAR FOR JUNIOR HIGH SCIENCE FAIR

The Keota Junior High School Science Fair was held Friday, March 8 in the KHS cafeteria. Judges were Mike Williams, Angie Sieren, Bonnie Ingersoll, Holly Kauffman, Carolyn Holm, Grace Shemanski, Lauren Imhoff, Frankie Johnson, Jill Schulte, Jaime Schulte, and Jarrod Keller. Awards were given to the top three in the following categories: Best Overall, Best Presentation, and Best Real-Life Application. Thank you to the judges for volunteering their time and congratulations to all the students on a successful science fair!

BLAST FROM THE PAST

BY BRANDEN HYMAN

HOW WILL SENIORS RESPOND TO THE SECOND TIME AROUND?

Each week, we ask a Senior the same question they were asked for the Question of the Week when they were in 7th grade. Let's see how their responses have changed over the years...

Frankie Johnson

Q: Christmas Day or Christmas Eve-which one is better?

7th:
A: "Christmas Eve, because I am excited about all my presents."

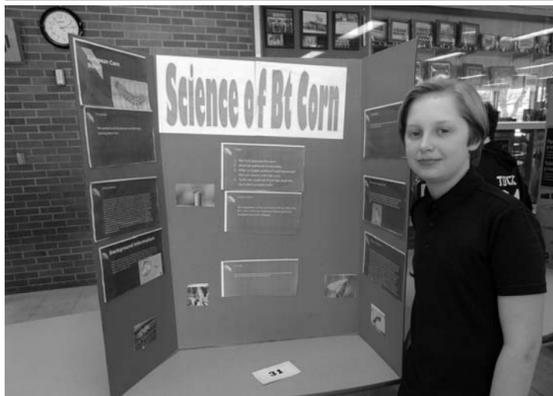

12th:
A: "Christmas Eve, because it's exciting and I get to look forward to Christmas."

BEST REAL-LIFE APPLICATION

BY BRANDEN HYMAN

Ethan Fisher won first place for Most Applicable with his project titled, "Science of Bt Corn."

Tanner Waterhouse and Aiden McGuire got second place in the Most Applicable category with their project titled, "Tooth Enemy."

Emma Hammes and Emily Sheetz won third place in the Most Applicable category for their project titled, "Know before you Spray."

ELEMENTARY SPOTLIGHT

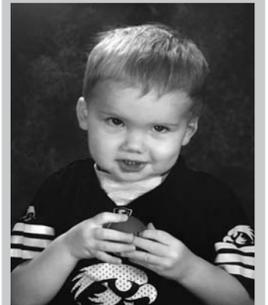

BY JUSTIN MOELLER

This week's Elementary Student of the Week is Luke Bernard Moeller. Luke is currently in fifth grade at Keota Elementary School and is 11 years old. His teacher is Mrs. Lyle and his parents are Jamie and John Moeller. He has always attended Keota and has a lot of fun here. He has three siblings, a twin sister named Emily, and two older brothers named Justin and Jacob. Luke's favorite part of his day is P.E. class because he likes to run. His favorite subject is math because he thinks it is easy, and his least favorite subject is spelling because he's not that good at it. He doesn't know yet what he wants to be when he grows up. This past Christmas he went to his grandma's house and watched lots of movies. During recess his favorite thing to do is play tag with his friends, and he loves to watch T.V. after school. Congratulations to Luke on being selected as this week's Elementary Student of the Week.

MYSTERY STUDENT

BY PAIGE MINARD

This week's Mystery Student is involved in football, basketball, and track. They have three older siblings. They have attended Keota schools their whole life. If you think you know this week's Mystery Student, head to Mrs. Conrad's room for a prize!
